LIBRARY DRIVE FOR MEMBERS STARTS FEB. 15

Acknowledging endorsements from many county and community organizations and steadily growing membership rolls, the members of the board of directors of the Adams County Free Library Association made plans at a special meeting Monday evening for a special meeting of the association membership, possibly on Thursday evening, February 15, as the formal drive for 3,000 charter members gets underway.

Final decision on the date for the membership meeting will not be reached until plans of the membership committee headed by Richard A. Brown, Esq., are consulted. Mr. Brown's committee which will have representatives in every county community will attempt to contact every organization in the county.

Several changes in the by-laws and constitution of the association will be considered at the general meeting and the membership also will be asked to fill the position on the board of directors which was resigned Monday evening by Albert Weaver, McSherrystown. Mr. Weaver wrote that his duties as a member of the New Oxford draft board and other civic organizations makes it impossible for him to serve as a library director. The resignation was accepted with reluctance.

Response Good From Farmers
Officers' reports showed a particularly strong response to the library movement from rural sections of Adams county. Memberships have been coming in from those sections, Willis I. Beidler, association treasurer, reported, stating that in five farm families every member has paid the $1 library membership fee.

Dr. Robert A. Bream reported as chairman of a special committee (Please turn to Page 3)

2 PRISONERS OF WAR HURT IN ACCIDENT

Two German prisoners of war from the local camp were injured when the truck in which they were being transported to work was struck by a second truck this morning about 8 o'clock, on Carlisle street, north of the Western Maryland railway tracks.

Borough Officer Charles W. Culp, Jr., who investigated, said the machines collided when the truck, driven by Leonard E. Shumaker, of Hagerstown, tried to pass an automobile while both vehicles were traveling south. The truck carrying the prisoners was traveling north and was struck as the other vehicle, owned by the Masser Motor Freight company, of Hagerstown, swung into the other lane of the road.

One of the prisoners had to be carried by stretcher to the Army ambulance, called from the local prisoner-of-war camp, to transport the injured. The other injured prisoner was bleeding about the head but was able to walk. The ambulance from the Warner hospital also answered the emergency call but was not used.

The prisoner truck was transporting the Germans to the farm of Walter Hayes, Jr., between Biglerville and Wrensville, to cut pulpwood and was owned by Hayes. The driver was Fred M. Warren, of Biglerville.

The Hayes truck was pushed to the edge of the road and came to rest against two parked automobiles, slightly denting the left front fender of one machine. DOCTOR URGES REVISIONS IN HEALTH BUREAU

Dr. Raymond M. Hale, Arendtsville physician, spoke in "Pre-School Clinics and Our National Health Problem," at the regular monthly meeting of the Adams County Welfare committee held Monday night at the College Lutheran church.

In his discussion, Doctor Hale included a resume of the work now being done in the county for children of school age, the present problems, the national health program, and gave a proposed new set-up to handle both local and national health problems.

In speaking of the over-lapping of responsibilities and functions of the present state set-up, Doctor Hale said, "Now out of this confusion of multiple agencies working for individual goals, let us bring some order."

"Better Department"
"I propose first a better functioning state Department of Health. This organization will be responsible for the periodic conduction of proper school examinations at selected age levels, and will set forth the requirements to be followed by industry in the conduction of periodic health examinations. This will provide complete coverage of our population, and uniformity of examination."

"Second, retention and improvement of our U. S. Public Health Department. I see no reason why, since old age is a health problem, that Social Security should not work through this department. It could even be argued that our Army and Navy Medical corps should function through this agency. The U. S. Public Health Department should set up standards governing our State Health Department."

Health Insurance
"Third, I propose development and improvement of health and accident coverage. The State Department of Health could easily say, 'to employ a person one must provide not only our present compensation insurance, but must add to it health insurance. Why not have a broader form of workman's compensation insurance? Why just cover him when he is working? Why not cover him while he is at home? Why just cover (Please Turn to Page 3)

Three-Pronged Drive In Reich; Americans Push On In Germany

By JAMES M. LONG
Paris, Jan. 30 (AP)—Troops of the Third Army drove nearly a mile into Germany today, capturing Weichenhausen and widening its new snow-drifted invasion bridgehead over the Our to two miles.

Elements of a whole division were thrown into the "fresh invasion, a little more than a dozen miles from the Siegfried pivot of Prum. Nearby Stuppach in Belgium also was taken. Well to the north, the Germans were executing a fresh withdrawal from Holland toward the Russian front. Berlin said the Canadian Army was heavily shelling their lines east of the Hollandsch Diep, which courses 14 miles south of the great Dutch port of Rotterdam.

To the south, twin attacks by the American Third and First Armies drew up close to or into the fringes of the Siegfried line along 40 miles of the Ardennes front, where the Wehrmacht was sapped dangerously thin to bolster its smashed eastern front. At two places, the Third Army invaded Germany anew.

Fairly heavy movements of Germans were spotted pulling back into the Reich from the Holland section east of the IJssel Meer (Zuyder Zee) and RAF Mosquitoes harassed the foe. German withdrawals eastward from the threatened Ruhr, in progress most of last week, practically ceased.

Pound Rail Centers

Allied air forces swooped over lines of withdrawal and inflicted heavy damage on the railway centers of Munster, Paderborn, Detmold, Hamm and Cologne. Flights were in the worst possible weather.

The Canadian Army, at least six divisions strong, is deployed in the extreme north of the western front along the Meuse (Meuse) river and within six miles of Kleve, terminus of the Siegfried line. It has been virtually inactive since capturing Antwerp, well rested and refitted.

Should it strike to the IJssel Meer, it would cut off such cities as Rotterdam, Amsterdam, the Hague, Haarlem and Utrecht.

The Germans for several days have been talking of the imminence of a Canadian attack, and indeed of a new general offensive in the west. Snow still was falling on 11-degree cold on the western front this morning.

Swing To Offensive

Despite the terrific handicap of waist-deep drifts, General Eisenhower's front slowly was turning to the offensive.

Allied air forces hurled their destructive bomb weight into the balance yesterday with nearly 4,000 sorties. The last ten days of roadside slaughter have accounted for 5,000 vehicles destroyed and 4,500 damaged, 250 tanks and armored vehicles ruined, and approximately 1,500 rail cars destroyed and 2,000 damaged. Some 1,261 were disabled in the St. Vith area alone yesterday.

Added to all the destruction was the paralyzing effect of yesterday's mighty air blows at 32 rail yards along key lines back from the Rhine toward the eastern front.

Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army broke the German Our river frontier defense at two places just north of Luxembourg. The doughboys waded icy waters to their waists (Please Turn to Page 5)

Countian Injured In York Accident

Stewart Deardorff, New Oxford, suffered injuries about the face when the car in which he was riding figured in a collision with another automobile at 5:45 p. m. Monday on Madison avenue, York. He was treated at the York hospital.

Police said Deardorff was an occupant of a car driven by L. E. Kinschler, also of New Oxford. Their car was hit head-on by a machine operated by Kurvin W. Dennis, York. Police reported the Dennis car skidded into the other auto.

Both cars were damaged considerably about the front and a new tire on each was punctured.

Mercury Jumps To 33 Degrees Today

A low temperature of 13 degrees for Monday night was recorded on the official instruments of Dr. Henry Stewart, local weather observer.

The reading at 1 o'clock this afternoon was 33 degrees and the ice and snow on exposed roads, sidewalks and roof-tops was melting. The reading Monday was 35 degrees.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
London, Jan. 30—Soviet armored spearheads fighting forward in a blizzard drove today to within 85 to 90 miles of Berlin in a huge, three-pronged Red Army assault toward the Reich capital, Moscow dispatches reported.

A German broadcast declared the Russians had launched a heavy, armored offensive on a 42-mile front inside the border of Eastern Germany on a bee-line for Berlin, and that "the first onslaught gained appreciable ground."

The broadcast said the first objective was the communications center of Kustrin on the Oder and Warthe rivers 42 miles from Berlin.

A direct Moscow dispatch said Russian columns punched five to eight miles inside Brandenburg province due east of Berlin, and 15 to 20 miles inside Pomerania in a push striking northeast of the German heart city.

South of these blows by Marshal Zhukov's First White Russian Army Group, tanks and infantry of the First Ukrainian Army were striking westward from bridgeheads flung over the Oder river in Silesia.

The Pomeranian and Silesian offensives threatened a great pincers from north and south on Berlin, in addition to Zhukov's offensive beating in from the east in Brandenburg, said Associated Press Correspondent Eddy Gilmore in Moscow.

Admit Red Gains

Today's German communiques declared Zhukov was attacking heavily in the Obra river sector due east of Berlin, and said the Soviets had made "further gains to the north" around encircled Schneidemuhl.

The bulletin said counterattacks in lower Silesia had broken through to the Russian-surrounded garrison in Steinau on the Oder's west bank 32 miles northwest of Breslau.

In East Prussia, it added, Germans fighting westward trying to break out from a Russian pocket reached the Elbing bridgehead after a 19-mile gain. German naval forces were thrown into the defense of Königsberg, East Prussian capital, and helped stem Soviet attacks, the Berlin communique said.

Zhukov's northern arm bit deeper despite blinding snow after toppling Driesen and Woldenburg, 93 miles northeast of Berlin, and 57 miles from the Baltic port of Stettin. This campaign threatened to cut off northeastern Germany, as well as pull around on Berlin from the north.

Boche Beg Boche
The push into Pomerania had carried 13 miles on a 30-mile front by last night.

In Berlin, Nazi leaders implored Germans to rise and save the capital.

Elsewhere on this 12th anniversary of Adolf Hitler's rise as chancellor unchecked Soviet armies were within two miles of Königsberg in East Prussia and had reached the German-Polish frontier due west of tottering Poznan in a drive that carried to within 93 miles of Berlin.

Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's First White Russian Army stabbed inside Pomerania northwest of Poznan after leaving siege units behind to erase that island of enemy resistance. Berlin declared Russian troops had fought their way into the heart of the city and its fall was (Please Turn to Page 6)

Hitler Starts 13th Year Of His Rule

London, Jan. 30 (AP)—Amidst portents of perhaps the greatest defeat in Germany's history, Adolf Hitler started today the 13th year of his rule.

His downfall and that of all who have clung to him were apparent in signs in a Europe battered by nearly five and a half years of war.

A Berlin broadcast quoted Labor Minister Dr. Robert Ley as saying the day would be one "of work and fight such as all days are now." Heretofore it has been Hitler's custom to speak, but London was skeptical and guessing that if he did it would accomplish little more than further depressing the home folk.

CATTLE ESCAPE

Thirteen cattle being hauled along the Lincoln highway near McKnightstown Monday morning ran free when the truck ran off the highway and struck snowbanks and a pole that shattered the body. The Lancaster driver and some volunteer "cowboys" succeeded in corralling the cattle in a nearby barn later in the morning. The low cow from the H. and H. machine shop righted the truck.

Acknowledging endorsements from many county and community organizations and steadily growing membership rolls, the members of the board of directors of the Adams County Free Library Association made plans at a special meeting Monday evening for a special meeting of the association membership, possibly on Thursday evening, February 15, as the formal drive for 3,000 charter members gets underway.

Final decision on the date for the membership meeting will not be reached until plans of the membership committee headed by Richard A. Brown, Esq., are consulted. Mr. Brown's committee which will have representatives in every county community will attempt to contact every organization in the county.

Several changes in the by-laws and constitution of the association will be considered at the general meeting and the membership also will be asked to fill the position on the board of directors which was resigned Monday evening by Albert Weaver, McSherrystown. Mr. Weaver wrote that his duties as a member of the New Oxford draft board and other civic organizations makes it impossible for him to serve as a library director. The resignation was accepted with reluctance.

Response Good From Farmers
Officers' reports showed a particularly strong response to the library movement from rural sections of Adams county. Memberships have been coming in from those sections, Willis I. Beldler, association treasurer, reported, stating that in five farm families every member has paid the $1 library membership fee.

Dr. Robert A. Bream reported as chairman of a special committee (Please turn to Page 3)

Drifted Highway Scene Of Crash

State police reported today a two-car accident which occurred on the Center Mills-Aspers road Monday afternoon about 5:15 o'clock.

An automobile driven by Meyere L. Martin, Aspers R. 1, crashed into a second automobile driven by Raymond R. Smith, of Aspers, near the end of a one-way passage along the snow-drifted highway, police said. Officer Harold C. Sheads, of the local substation of the state police, who investigated, said Smith was nearing the end of the one-way stretch when Martin entered the passage, was unable to stop and skidded into the Smith car.

Total damage was estimated at about $40. Officer Sheads said Martin will be charged with reckless driving.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Betty Schwartz, Littlestown R. 1, has been admitted as a patient to the Warner hospital. Those discharged were Mrs. Clarence Van-Brankle, Emmitsburg; Romanus Gastley, Railroad street, and Mrs. Emma Settle, Seven Stars.

2 PRISONERS OF WAR HURT IN ACCIDENT

Two German prisoners of war from the local camp were injured when the truck in which they were being transported to work was struck by a second truck this morning about 8 o'clock, on Carlisle street, north of the Western Maryland railway tracks.

Borough Officer Charles W. Culp, Jr., who investigated, said the machines collided when the truck, driven by Leonard E. Shumaker, of Hagerstown, tried to pass an automobile while both vehicles were traveling south. The truck carrying the prisoners was traveling north and was struck as the other vehicle, owned by the Masser Motor Freight company, of Hagerstown, swung in to the other lane of the road.

One of the prisoners had to be carried by stretcher to the Army ambulance, called from the local prisoner-of-war camp, to transport the injured. The other injured prisoner was bleeding about the head but was able to walk. The ambulance from the Warner hospital also answered the emergency call but was not used.

Enroute To Work

The prisoner truck was transporting the Germans to the farm of Walter Hayes, Jr., between Biglerville and Wernville, to cut pulpwood and was owned by Hayes. The driver was Fred M. Warren, of Biglerville. The Hayes truck was pushed to the edge of the road and came to rest against two parked automobiles, slightly denting the left front fender of one machine. A side mirror also was broken from the same car. The Biglerville truck was reported damaged only slightly, at the left front fender, but the Masser vehicle was badly damaged on the left side, police reported.

The left front wheel and tire were torn off the Hagerstown truck and were caught between the left rear wheels and the bed of the Hayes truck. The left front fender, motor hood, running board and other parts of the freight company machine were also damaged.

To X-ray Injured

The injured prisoners were taken to the office of Dr. C. G. Crist where they were given first aid treatment. Two were X-rayed later in the day (Please Turn to Page 3)

DOCTOR URGES REVISIONS IN HEALTH BUREAU

Dr. Raymond M. Hale, Arendtsville physician, spoke in "Pre-School Clinics and Our National Health Problem," at the regular monthly meeting of the Adams County Welfare committee held Monday night at the College Lutheran church.

In his discussion, Doctor Hale included a resume of the work now being done in the county for children of school age, the present problems, the national health program, and gave a proposed new set-up to handle both local and national health problems.

In speaking of the over-lapping of responsibilities and functions of the present state set-up, Doctor Hale said, "Now out of this confusion of multiple agencies working for individual goals, let us bring some order."

"Better Department"

"I propose first a better functioning state Department of Health. This organization will be responsible for the periodic conduction of proper school examinations at selected age levels, and will set forth the requirements to be followed by industry in the conduction of periodic health examinations. This will provide complete coverage of our population, and uniformity of examination."

"Second, retention and improvement of our U. S. Public Health Department. I see no reason why, since old age is a health problem, that Social Security should not work through this department. It could even be argued that our Army and Navy Medical corps should function through this agency. The U. S. Public Health Department should set up standards governing our State Health Department."

Health Insurance

"Third, I propose development and improvement of health and accident coverage. The State Department of Health could easily say, to employ a person one must provide not only our present compensation insurance, but must add to it health insurance. Why not have a broader form of workman's compensation insurance? Why just cover him when he is working? Why not cover him while he is at home? Why just cover (Please Turn to Page 3)

Three-Pronged Drive In Reich; Americans Push On In Germany

By JAMES M. LONG

Paris, Jan. 30 (AP)—Troops of the Third Army drove nearly a mile into Germany today, capturing Wechenhausen and widening its new snow-drifted invasion bridgehead over the Our to two miles.

Elements of a whole division were thrown into the "fresh invasion, a little more than a dozen miles from the Siegfried pivot of Prum. Nearby Stuppach in Belgium also was taken. Well to the north, the Germans were executing a fresh withdrawal from Holland toward the Russian front. Berlin said the Canadian Army was heavily shelling their lines east of the Hollandsch Diep, which courses 14 miles south of the great Dutch port of Rotterdam.

To the south, twin attacks by the American Third and First Armies drew up close to or into the fringes of the Siegfried line along 40 miles of the Ardennes front, where the Wehrmacht was sapped dangerously thin to bolster its smashed eastern front. At two places, the Third Army invaded Germany anew.

Fairly heavy movements of Germans were spotted pulling back into the Reich from the Holland section east of the IJssel Meer (Zuyder Zee) and RAF Mosquitoes harassed the foe. German withdrawals eastward from the threatened Ruhr, in progress most of last week, practically ceased.

Pound Rail Centers

Allied air forces swooped over lines of withdrawal and inflicted heavy damage on the railway centers of Munster, Paderborn, Detmold, Hamm and Cologne. Flights were in the worst possible weather.

The Canadian Army, at least six divisions strong, is deployed in the extreme north of the western front along the Maas (Meuse) river, and within six miles of Kleve, terminus of the Siegfried line. It has been virtually inactive since capturing Antwerp, well rested and refitted.

Should it strike to the IJssel Meer, it would cut off such cities as Rotterdam, Amsterdam, the Hague, Haarlem and Utrecht.

The Germans for several days have been talking of the imminence of a Canadian attack, and indeed of a new general offensive in the west. Snow still was falling on 11-degree cold on the western front this morning.

Swing To Offensive

Despite the terrific handicap of waist-deep drifts, General Eisenhower's front slowly was turning to the offensive.

Allied air forces hurled their destructive bomb weight into the balance yesterday with nearly 4,000 sorties. The last ten days of roadside slaughter have accounted for 5,000 vehicles destroyed and 4,500 damaged, 250 tanks and armored vehicles ruined, and approximately 1,500 rail cars destroyed and 2,000 damaged. Some 1,261 were disabled in the St. Vith area alone yesterday.

Added to all the destruction was the paralyzing effect of yesterday's mighty air blows at 32 rail yards along key lines back from the Rhine toward the eastern front.

Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army broke the German Our river frontier defense at two places just north of Luxembourg. The doughboys waded icy waters to their waists (Please Turn to Page 5)

Countian Injured In York Accident

Stewart Deardorff, New Oxford, suffered injuries about the face when the car in which he was riding figured in a collision with another automobile at 5:45 p. m. Monday on Madison avenue, York. He was treated at the York hospital.

Police said Deardorff was an occupant of a car driven by L. E. Klinefelter, also of New Oxford. Their car was hit head-on by a machine operated by Kurvin W. Dennis, York. Police reported the Dennis car skidded into the other auto.

Both cars were damaged considerably about the front and a new tire on each was punctured.

Mercury Jumps To 33 Degrees Today

A low temperature of 13 degrees for Monday night was recorded on the official instruments of Dr. Henry Stewart, local weather observer.

The reading at 1 o'clock this afternoon was 33 degrees and the ice and snow on exposed roads, sidewalks and roof-tops was melting. The reading Monday was 35 degrees.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

London, Jan. 30—Soviet armored spearheads fighting forward in a blizzard drove today to within 85 to 90 miles of Berlin in a huge, three-pronged Red Army assault toward the Reich capital, Moscow dispatches reported.

A German broadcast declared the Russians had launched a heavy, armored offensive on a 42-mile front inside the border of Eastern Germany on a bee-line for Berlin, and that "the first onslaught gained appreciable ground."

The broadcast said the first objective was the communications center of Kustrin on the Oder and Warthe rivers 42 miles from Berlin.

A direct Moscow dispatch said Russian columns punched five to eight miles inside Brandenburg province due east of Berlin, and 15 to 20 miles inside Pomerania in a push striking northeast of the German heart city.

South of these blows by Marshal Zhukov's First White Russian Army Group, tanks and infantry of the First Ukrainian Army were striking westward from bridgeheads flung over the Oder river in Silesia.

The Pomeranian and Silesian offensives threatened a great pincer from north and south on Berlin, in addition to Zhukov's offensive beating in from the east in Brandenburg, said Associated Press Correspondent Eddy Gilmore in Moscow.

Admit Red Gains

Today's German communiques declared Zhukov was attacking heavily in the Obra river sector due east of Berlin, and said the Soviets had made "further gains to the north" around encircled Schneidemuhl.

The bulletin said counterattacks in lower Silesia had broken through to the Russian-surrounded garrison in Steinau on the Oder's west bank 32 miles northwest of Breslau.

In East Prussia, it added, Germans fighting westward trying to break out from a Russian pocket reached the Ebbing bridgehead after a 19-mile gain. German naval forces were thrown into the defense of Königsberg, East Prussian capital, and helped stem Soviet attacks, the Berlin communiques said.

Zhukov's northern arm bit deeper despite blinding snow after toppling Driesen and Woldenburg, 93 miles northeast of Berlin, and 57 miles from the Baltic port of Stettin. This campaign threatened to cut off northeastern Germany, as well as pull around on Berlin from the north.

Boche Beg Boche

The push into Pomerania had carried 13 miles on a 30-mile front by last night.

In Berlin, Nazi leaders implored Germans to rise and save the capital. Elsewhere on this 12th anniversary of Adolf Hitler's rise as chancellor unchecked Soviet armies were within two miles of Königsberg in East Prussia and had reached the German-Polish frontier due west of Götter-Poznan in a drive that carried to within 93 miles of Berlin.

Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's First White Russian Army stabbed inside Pomerania northwest of Poznan after leaving siege units behind to erase that island of enemy resistance. Berlin declared Russian troops had fought their way into the heart of the city and its fall was (Please Turn to Page 5)

Hitler Starts 13th Year Of His Rule

London, Jan. 30 (AP)—Amidst portents of perhaps the greatest defeat in Germany's history, Adolf Hitler started today the 13th year of his rule.

His downfall and that of all who have clung to him were apparent in signs in a Europe battered by nearly five and a half years of war.

A Berlin broadcast quoted Labor Minister Dr. Robert Ley as saying the day would be one "of work and fight as all days are now."

Heretofore it has been Hitler's custom to speak, but London was skeptical and guessing that if he did it would accomplish little more than further depressing the home folk.

CATTLE ESCAPE

Thirteen cattle being hauled along the Lincoln highway near McKnights town Monday morning ran free when the truck ran off the highway and struck snowbanks and a pole that shattered the body. The Lancaster driver and some volunteer "cowboys" succeeded in corralling the cattle in a nearby barn later in the morning. The tow car from the H. and H. machine shop righted the truck.

DEFIANT NAZIS CAN MAKE FINAL BITTER STAND

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press War Analyst)

We won't, if we are wise, shrug away the German defiance that they will fight before Berlin, in Berlin, around Berlin and behind Berlin," even though at the same time Dr. Robert Ley, labor leader, admits that "in all probability what is left of the German capital may soon pass into Russian hands."

Nazdom is cracking, and cracking fast, but there are the makings of a bitter last-ditch stand—perhaps with Munich as the center of resistance. It's true that Red forces are less than a hundred miles from Berlin, and the western Allies are rapidly getting set for major operations, but the general military situation still affords the Hitlerites opportunities for strong defense.

One important factor, as pointed out in yesterday's column, is that the Russians must nullify the German striking-power on their northern and southern flanks as they thrust that long salient through prepared enemy defenses towards Berlin. This may give the Nazis a reprieve.

Leaders Protecting Selves

However, if we could lift the roof off Hitler's headquarters and listen to one of the current raucous conferences, we probably should find that it had to do largely with the question of unconditional German surrender. That's bound to be, because surrender is the only reasonable course at this stage, despite the undoubted determination of the Nazi leaders to try to make the Army stand and fight and to keep the civilian population in line.

If we could get that headquarters roof off, we should find several questions relating to surrender under discussion. And the foremost of these would relate to the fact that the Nazis chiefs are going to be punished for war guilt—maybe hanged by the neck until dead.

Self-preservation being the first law of nature, it's a safe bet that this threat of personal punishment is the main stumbling block to surrender. Hitler and his captains already have sacrificed millions of lives to satisfy Nazi dreams of conquest, and they'll scarcely hesitate now to sacrifice the German people if it will save the hides of the leaders.

Technical Triumph!

The point is, of course, that the Hitlerites hope delay may temper their punishment. There have been reports of differences of opinion in the United Nations war crimes commission regarding the handling of this admittedly ticklish subject, although the Germans can have got small satisfaction from acting Secretary of State Grew's blunt announcement yesterday that "it is the policy of this government to see that the Axis leaders and their henchmen who have been guilty of war crimes and atrocities shall be brought to the bar of justice."

Naturally there are other points for consideration in connection with surrender. One is that if the Germans should capitulate now, while the enemy is still at the borders of the Reich, they could make out a fair case for history that their defeat actually is only technical, since the Reich hasn't been invaded wholesale. This would be a triumph for the fatherland, though tough on the Nazis leaders who would have to face the war crimes commission.

Tough Decision

Then you hear a lot of people speculating whether the Hitlerites might hold the Russians on the eastern front and deliberately let the western Allies invade the Reich, figuring that Germany's punishment will be more severe if the Red troops are first in the country. On the other hand there are some observers who think it's not beyond Hitler to try to drive a bargain with Moscow at this eleventh hour.

Well, either of those things could happen. The first—giving the western Allies a free run to Berlin—certainly wouldn't make the Nazi position any worse. As for the second, while Hitler would sell his soul to escape from his present dilemma, he won't find any buyer in Moscow.

It's easy to see that it is a hard decision for the Nazi leaders to make. They apparently feel their best gamble is to keep on fighting, and watch for some loop-hole for escaping the full punishment for their crimes. Anyway, that's the basis on which the Allies have to proceed—a finish fight.

DECORATED VET, SCHOOLMAN ARE LIONS' SPEAKERS

T. Sgt. Raymond Felix, McSherrystown, decorated veteran of 30 bombing missions over Germany and occupied countries with the Eighth Air Force, and Leslie V. Stock, supervising principal of the Biglerville public schools, were the guest speakers at the weekly dinner meeting of the Gettysburg Lions club Monday evening at Mrs. Smith's restaurant.

At the same session the Lions increased to $171 their club's contributions to the Gettysburg Youth Center and turned the check for that sum over to Henry T. Bream, member of the club and chairman of the adult committee for the Youth Center.

Sergeant Felix, who wears the Air Medal with three oak leaf clusters, the Distinguished Flying Cross, a Presidential citation bar and the European Theater of Operations ribbon with stars for the invasion of western Europe and for the bombing of Kiel, was introduced by his neighbor, District Attorney J. Francis Yake; in charge of the club's program for the evening.

"Tightest Spot"

"The tightest spot I was ever in was when I was flak knocked out of our engines over Berlin on March 6 of last year and we had to fall out of formation. Friendly fighters brought us home," the sergeant told the clubmen. His biggest thrill was in seeing swarms of Nazi fighters rising to meet his formation blasted by Yankee bombs and escorting fighters.

He has helped bomb most of the big targets in Europe, he said, after telling of his training in this country after being inducted August 1, 1942. Telling of instances of "good sportsmanship" on the part of enemy fighter pilots, Felix said he had seen Yankee bomb crews "captured in the air." He said that if the crew of a stricken bomber under attack by a swarm of enemy fighters would lower their wheels as a signal of their intention to land in enemy territory the Nazi pilots would lead them to an airfield. He also said he had seen Nazi pilots "protect" parachuting Yankees.

The flyer described the heavy electrical heated suits they wear for the high-altitude missions and declared that the intense cold is as dangerous as the enemy. His coldest mission was at 65 degrees below zero, he said.

Ladies' Night Planned

Professor Stock described the difficulties being encountered by school administrators in keeping teacher staffs and the general school program at the highest possible standards in the face of wartime shortages of teachers and "unsettled" conditions. The great importance of maintaining high educational standards to enable the United States to keep its place in the civilized world was stressed by the speaker.

He spoke specially of the "middle ground" between strictly vocational-industrial and general industrial training plans followed in the industrial arts department of the Biglerville junior-senior high school. He said the plan was made possible through the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Musselman and its program planned to suit the needs of the Biglerville community.

He outlined the courses in shop work in wood and metals, mechanical drawing and blueprint reading offered to boys and girls alike at Biglerville, paralleling vocational programs in agriculture and home economics. 3-DAY FREIGHT EMBARGO ENDS; EFFECTS GO ON

Philadelphia, Jan. 30 (AP)—The Office of Defense Transportation three-day freight embargo was over today, but Pennsylvania coal operators withheld predictions as to how soon production will return to normal until they could find out how many railroad cars would be made available to them.

The embargo's end found at least four western Pennsylvania bituminous coal fields idle due to lack of shipping facilities, and production at a number of eastern anthracite collieries either suspended or curtailed.

At Wilkes-Barre and Hazleton, it was announced that the ODT ordered railroads to refuse cars to collieries that operated yesterday. Many of them were working today, however, storing the coal in mine cars and selling to local retailers and independent truckers.

As the coal shortage in Philadelphia and other eastern cities became increasingly grave yesterday, Governor Edward Martin asked Solid Fuels Administrator Ickes in Washington for an immediate end to the embargo on coal shipment, but it was continued until last midnight, its scheduled deadline.

"World's Worst Blunder"

State Secretary of Mines Richard M. Ickes called the ban "a grave mistake" and Howard D. Gibbs, executive secretary of the Retail Coal Merchants association of Allegheny county, said in a telegram to the Governor that it was "the worst blunder in history."

In Philadelphia, 3,500 persons applied to the Office of Civilian Defense for emergency coal rations. Some consumers reported that independent truckers were demanding more than $6 per ton in excess of OPA ceiling prices.

Predictions of a serious temporary food shortage here have also arisen from the embargo. George A. Casey, a meat packing executive, said that unless voluntary rationing is started immediately, 90 per cent of Philadelphians will be unable to secure pork and pork products.

Spokesmen for packers of beef, lamb and veal also warned of an impending shortage, declaring that they will be forced to ration deliveries of 20 per cent of their normal output.

Report Nazi Police Shot Famished Berlin Women Seeking Food

Berlin, Jan. 30 (AP)—A Berlin dispatch to the Feuille D'Aviz de Neuchatel said today that police in the German capital fired into a throng of famished women who overturned a truckload of potatoes yesterday and wounded 37 of them.

Hunger and severe cold are causing suffering and misery among thousands of refugees driven to the capital by the Russian advance, the story added.

The account said 27 refugees, including five children, were found frozen to death, and that all day long refugees were burning park benches in an effort to warm themselves. They overturned trams and set fire to them while the police looked on without interfering, the story added.

He reported that in the 20 states which approved federal ballot use only about 5.3 per cent of the soldiers eligible used it, and commented:

"Most servicemen who desire to vote were able to obtain, then vote and return their state absentee ballot, leaving relatively few who needed to 'or legally could use federal ballot."

DEFIANT NAZIS CAN MAKE FINAL BITTER STAND

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (Associated Press War Analyst)

We won't, if we are wise, shrug away the German defiance that they "will fight before Berlin, in Berlin, around Berlin and behind Berlin," even though at the same time Dr. Robert Ley, labor leader, admits that "in all probability what is left of the German capital, may soon pass into Russian hands."

Nazism is cracking, and cracking fast, but there are the makings of a bitter last-ditch stand—perhaps with Munich as the center of resistance. It's true that Red forces are less than a hundred miles from Berlin, and the western Allies are rapidly getting set for major operations, but the general military situation still affords the Hitlerites opportunities for strong defense.

One important factor, as pointed out in yesterday's column, is that the Russians must nullify the German striking-power on their northern and southern flanks as they thrust that long salient through prepared enemy defenses towards Berlin. This may give the Nazis a reprieve.

Leaders Protecting Selves

However, if we could lift the roof off Hitler's headquarters and listen to one of the current raucous conferences, we probably should find that it had to do largely with the question of unconditional German surrender. That's bound to be, because surrender is the only reasonable course at this stage, despite the undoubted determination of the Nazi leaders to try to make the Army stand and fight and to keep the civilian population in line.

If we could get that headquarters roof off, we should find several questions relating to surrender under discussion. And the foremost of these would relate to the fact that the Nazis chiefs are going to be punished for war guilt—maybe hanged by the neck until dead.

Self-preservation being the first law of nature, it's a safe bet that this threat of personal punishment is the main stumbling block to surrender. Hitler and his captains already have sacrificed millions of lives to satisfy Nazi dreams of conquest, and they'll scarcely hesitate now to sacrifice the German people if it will save the hides of the leaders.

Technical Triumph!

The point is, of course, that the Hitlerites hope delay may temper their punishment. There have been reports of differences of opinion in the United Nations war crimes commission regarding the handling of this admittedly ticklish subject, although the Germans can have got small satisfaction from acting Secretary of State Grew's blunt announcement yesterday that "it is the policy of this government to see that the Axis leaders and their henchmen who have been guilty of war crimes and atrocities shall be brought to the bar of justice."

Naturally there are other points for consideration in connection with surrender. One is that if the Germans should capitulate now, while the enemy is still at the borders of the Reich, they could make out a fair case for history that their defeat actually is only technical, since the Reich hasn't been invaded wholesale. This would be a triumph for the fatherland, though tough on the Nazis leaders who would have to face the war crimes commission.

Tough Decision

Then you hear a lot of people speculating whether the Hitlerites might hold the Russians on the eastern front and deliberately let the western Allies invade the Reich, figuring that Germany's punishment will be more severe if the Red troops are first in the country. On the other hand there are some observers who think it's not beyond Hitler to try to drive a bargain with Moscow at this eleventh hour.

Well, either of those things could happen. The first—giving the western Allies a free run to Berlin—certainly wouldn't make the Nazi position any worse. As for the second, while Hitler would sell his soul to escape from his present dilemma, he won't find any buyer in Moscow.

It's easy to see that it is a hard decision for the Nazi leaders to make. They apparently feel their best gamble is to keep on fighting, and watch for some loop-hole for escaping the full punishment for their crimes. Anyway, that's the basis on which the Allies have to proceed—a finish fight.

Wedding

Rambeau—Rosensteel

In a double ring ceremony performed in a church chapel in Baltimore, Miss Mary Jane Rosensteel, formerly of Gettysburg, and daughter of Mrs. George Grazer, became the bride of Ellwood L. Rambeau of the U. S. Navy and son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar E. Rambeau, of Baltimore.

A number of friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony performed December 22, by the church pastor, the Rev. Robert Poles. The bride was given in marriage by her stepfather, George Grazer.

The bride was attended by Miss Helen Chapman, of Gettysburg, as maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Ann Rosensteel, sister of the bride and Mrs. Wilbur A. Watts, sister of the bridegroom. The bridegroom had as his best man his brother-in-law, Wilbur A. Watts. The ushers were Joseph Krepp and Robert Doster, both of Baltimore.

The bride wore a street length dress of powder blue crepe with matching shoulder length veil and gloves. The bridesmaids wore aqua and fuchsia crepe dresses with head decorations on the order of the maid of honor's and contrasting gloves.

Mrs. Grazer wore a yellow chrysanthemum corsage while the bridegroom's mother wore a pink rosebud corsage.

The bride's going away outfit consisted of a black sheer dress, a black wool fitted coat on princess lines, a pillbox hat and patent leather accessories. The couple spent their honeymoon in New York city, after which the bridegroom reported to his naval base, Bainbridge, Md. The bride is residing with the bridegroom's parents for the present.

Mrs. Rambeau graduated from Gettysburg high school in 1943.

DECORATED VET, SCHOOLMAN ARE LIONS' SPEAKERS

T. Sgt. Raymond Felix, McSherrytown, decorated veteran of 30 bombing missions over Germany and occupied countries with the Eighth Air Force, and Leslie V. Stock, supervising principal of the Biglerville public schools, were the guest speakers at the weekly dinner meeting of the Gettysburg Lions club Monday evening at Mrs. Smith's restaurant.

At the same session the Lions increased to $171 their club's contributions to the Gettysburg Youth Center and turned the check for that sum over to Henry T. Bream, member of the club and chairman of the adult committee for the Youth Center.

Sergeant Felix, who wears the Air Medal with three oak leaf clusters, the Distinguished Flying Cross, a Presidential citation bar and the European Theater of Operations ribbon with stars for the invasion of western Europe and for the bombing of Kiel, was introduced by his neighbor, District Attorney J. Francis Yake, in charge of the club's program for the evening.

"Tightest Spot"

"The tightest spot I was ever in was when I was flak knocked out one of our engines over Berlin on March 6 of last year and we had to fall out of formation. Friendly fighters brought us home," the sergeant told the clubmen. His biggest thrill was in seeing swarms of Nazi fighters rising to meet his formation blasted by Yankee bombs and escorting fighters.

He has helped bomb most of the big targets in Europe, he said after telling of his training in this country after being inducted August 1, 1942. Telling of instances of "good sportsmanship" on the part of enemy fighter pilots, Felix said he had seen Yankee bomb crews "captured in the air." He said that if the crew of a stricken bomber under attack by a swarm of enemy fighters would lower their wheels as a signal of their intention to land in enemy territory the Nazi pilots would lead them to an airfield. He also said he had seen Nazi pilots "protect" parachuting Yankees.

The flyer described the heavy electrically heated suits they wear for the high-altitude missions and declared that the intense cold is as dangerous as the enemy. His oldest mission was at 65 degrees below zero, he said.

Ladies' Night Planned

Professor Stock described the difficulties being encountered by school administrators in keeping teacher staffs and the general school program at the highest possible standards in the face of wartime shortages of teachers and "unsettled" conditions. The great importance of maintaining high educational standards to enable the United States to keep its place in the civilized world was stressed by the speaker.

He spoke specially of the "middle ground" between strictly vocational-industrial and general industrial training plans followed in the industrial arts department of the Biglerville junior-senior high school. He said the plan was made possible through the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Musselman and its program planned to suit the needs of the Biglerville community.

He outlined the courses in shop work in wood and metals, mechanical drawing and blueprint reading offered to boys and girls alike at Biglerville, paralleling vocational programs in agriculture and home economics. Report Nazi Police Shot Famished Berlin Women Seeking Food

Bern, Jan. 30 (AP)—A Berlin dispatch to the Feuille d'avis de Neuchatel said today that police in the German capital fired into a throng of famished women who overturned a truckload of potatoes yesterday and wounded 37 of them.

The Neuchatel newspaper's story said a foreign worker was killed by police bullets.

Hunger and severe cold are causing suffering and misery among thousands of refugees driven to the capital by the Russian advance, the story added.

The account said 27 refugees, including five children, were found frozen to death, and that all day long refugees were burning park benches in an effort to warm themselves. They overturned trams and set fire to them while the police looked on without interfering, the story added.

Soldiers Prefer Simpler Ballots

Washington, Jan. 30 (AP)—Soldiers overseas were recorded today as preferring state ballot to the much-disputed federal forms in last fall's election.

This report came from War Secretary Stimson, as he filed with Congress a sharp criticism of the soldier vote law as passed last year.

He reported that in the 20 states which approved federal ballot use only about 5.3 per cent of the soldiers eligible used it, and commented:

"Most servicemen who desire to vote were able to obtain, then vote and return their state absentee ballot, leaving relatively few who needed to 'or legally could use federal ballot.'"

Harrisburg, Jan. 30 (AP)—Representatives in the general assembly may soon vote by pushing a button at their desk instead of waiting for their names to be called by a voice-recorder clerk.

A roll call of the 208 representatives now takes about 15 minutes but Brunner said the vote of the House could be recorded within a few minutes by the electrical device.

MARYLAND MEN WAR VICTIMS

Pfc. John W. Little, 34, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Little, of Emmitsburg, has been missing in action since January 8 in Belgium, a War department telegram has notified relatives.

Pfc. Little, who had been a tankman, was wounded about the face and left leg in November, relatives said, when his tank was hit. He was able to return to action shortly thereafter, he reported, after the "medics" treated him. Relatives are uncertain whether he had been transferred after that time to the infantry, although there was some indication to that effect, it was said.

With Patton's Third Army, Pfc. Little's last letter home said he was well and was expecting to be sent to some other country, which he could not identify, within a short time. This letter was dated December 27.

Pfc. Little had been in service about three years being stationed at Camp Cook, Calif., and Camp Chaffee, Okla., before going overseas last February. He was home for the last time to attend his father's funeral in December, 1943. Before entering service, he was employed at St. Joseph's college, Emmitsburg.

Richard Hull
A telegram from the War department has notified Mrs. Margaret Hull, of Taneytown, that her son, Richard, was killed in action in Belgium January 12. Hull, aged 25, had not been home since entering the service. An older brother, Sterling, is also in service overseas and is stationed in Iran.

Pfc. Charles F. Lockner, Taneytown, first reported missing in action, has been located in a hospital in England. He is undergoing treatment for frozen feet.

Private Harold Griffith, husband of Mrs. Almeda Marsteller Griffith, 113 South Pine street, York, was killed in Belgium, December 21, according to a telegram received by his wife from the War department.

Private Griffith was inducted into the service March 27, 1944, and had been overseas only about six weeks. A member of the infantry, he received training at Camp Blanding, Fla., and Fort Meade, Md. He served with the 30th division, known as "Old Hickory."

A sister, Mrs. Richard J. McCullough, resides in Emmitsburg.

Bonds Over America

KITTY HAWK

Distance was annihilated, war revolutionized by three years of glider flights and a 59-second motorized aeroplane test by the Wright brothers at Kitty Hawk, N. C. In 1928 residents of Kitty Hawk erected a monument to those historic tests; later the Federal Government dedicated the Wright Memorial Monument and a 350-acre park on Kill Devil Hill "in commemoration of the conquest of air by the brothers Wilbur and Orville Wright." Flights today of B-29's, fighter planes, scouts and transports prove how vital were those tests and inspire Americans to buy War Bonds for expansion of aviation to win complete victory. U. S. DIMES, DOLLARS
MARK BIRTHDAY
FOR PRESIDENT

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Washington, Jan. 30 (AP)—With Dimes and Dollars, America said "Happy Birthday" to President Roosevelt today.

But the event was secondary on a calendar on which another big three meeting is booked "soon."

At parties and balls over the nation, thousands are observing the 63rd birthday of the man in the White House and chipping in millions to battle infantile paralysis.

While they frolicked much in the manner of less sombre years, wartime activities of surpassing importance precluded the chief executive's personal participation in any of the public festivities.

Making Preparations
Mr. Roosevelt himself is authority for repeated statements that he expects to confer soon with Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin on efforts to achieve a total victory and carve out an enduring peace.

A chain of developments including a tour of European capitals by Harry L. Hopkins, has underlined the imminence of the parley. London dispatches have clocked Hopkins there, in Paris and in Rome, in preparation for the conference.

Friends of both Churchill and the President, Hopkins also is chairman of the Anglo-American munitions board.

Stettinius Gone Too
Disclosure has been permitted in Washington of the absence from the country of James F. Byrnes, director of war mobilization and reconversion.

Secretary of State Stettinius has announced acceptance of a Presidential invitation to attend the British-Russian-American conference.

For a week, Joseph C. Grew has been acting secretary—and the state department explains merely that Stettinius is "out of town."

Special missions in Europe also are taking three key men of the White House staff overseas:

Loans His Birthday
Press Secretary Stephen Early to examine public relations at Supreme Allied headquarters. Presidential counsel Samuel I. Rosenman to survey the need for civilian supplies and administrative assistant Lauchlin Currie to try to choke off Swiss aid to Germany.

Himself a victim of infantile paralysis in his middle years, Mr. Roosevelt has loaned his birthday ever since he entered the White House to stamp out the disease.

This anniversary finds him leaner by five or ten pounds but his physician, Vice Admiral Ross T. McIntyre, reported him in excellent shape when he took the oath of office for a fourth term ten days ago.

And, fourth, that the registrant cannot be suitably replaced.

Congressman Chester H. Gross, of this district, commenting on the Congressional Universal Military Training Bill, said:

"I have opposed military training in peacetime ever since I have been in Congress and I see no justifiable reason for changing my position at this time."

"It is my considered opinion that at the conclusion of present hostilities we shall have a large force of men trained in modern warfare returned to this country. This force will be adequate for several years to come, and then if world events prove we must train all our boys as this bill proposes, we could then adopt such a measure."

"I am wondering with what good grace this country could go to the world peace conference and plead for lasting peace when at that moment we are launching upon a new program of preparedness for war."

"So far this bill has had no committee consideration and until such time as the measure is considered and a report made available as to the findings and recommendations of the committee, I see no reason for changing my position concerning compulsory military training."

Some war bond owners are laboring under a misunderstanding relative to the time to convert a war bond into cash. The Treasury Department has ruled that war bonds "may be redeemed at the current redemption value at the option of the owner any time after 60 days from date of issue." The owner also must be identified. Bond holders, however, are being urged to retain their bonds and not to convert them into cash.

Other Recommendations
Among the other recommendations coming from the council's January meeting were the following:

"The district committees of the Adams County Teachers association should schedule regular meetings for the purpose of discussing local problems. Several districts may unite in order to get a better exchange of ideas. Out of these meetings should grow programs that may be followed up at the Teachers Institute."

"In addition to general meetings, the institute program should provide for discussion groups of social, economic and educational topics."

Urges Curriculum Group
"Participation in curriculum building is one of the most fruitful experiences in which teachers can engage. Therefore, a curriculum committee should be formed on a county-wide basis to prepare a specific course of study for use in the Adams county schools."

"Adult discussion groups should be organized in high schools and consolidated centers for the purpose of discussing local, national and international problems."

The conclusions were formulated by a committee composed of Miss Warner; Prof. Leslie V. Stock, supervising principal of the Biglerville schools; Prof. Charles R. Wolfe, dean of admissions and registrar at Gettysburg college; Prof. C. E. Balheimer, head of the college physical education department; Prof. G. W. Lefever, principal of Gettysburg high school; Doctor Kramer and Dr. Robert A. Bream, assistant county superintendent of schools.

accident? Why not include illness? Why just cover the wage earner? Why not cover his family?

Doctor Hale quoted the results of a number of surveys in various schools to support his talk. In closing he said, "I wish to summarize our national health problem," by saying that it involves detection and correction of physical defects. Correction involves care of the indigent and easing of the financial burden of catastrophe illness among our working classes." In a summary of his proposed set-up Doctor Hale listed the following points:

"We have provided for detection of physical defects by relegating the responsibility of group physical examinations to our State Department of Health."

Employment Standards
"We have given the responsibility of caring for and correction of the indigent to the State Department of Health."

"We have added a compulsory phase to the correction of defects by having the State Department of Health set up physical standards for employment."

"We have eased the burden on the working classes by providing for them an adequate form of health and accident insurance."

"An integrating agency, the U. S. Public Health Department, has been provided and under it has been merged several present independent government endeavors."

"And last of all, the system provides a workable compromise between the advocates of complete socialization of medicine on the one hand and complete private control on the other with Mr. Citizen and our nation as the beneficiaries."

Miss Jones Speaks
Doctor Hale was introduced by Dr. Robert A. Bream, assistant county superintendent of schools and vice-president of the Welfare committee. Mrs. Rasmus S. Saby, the committee president, presided at the meeting.

Miss Mary Hobson Jones, public assistance representative for the eastern area, also spoke briefly on the legislative bills on assistance work which are being considered by the assembly in session at the present time.

Following Doctor Hale's talk, a discussion was held by members of the audience on the various points of the physician's address.

Mrs. Saby announced the date of next meeting as February 19 when a discussion will be held on the proposed welfare and social legislation now being introduced in the assembly, and how such legislation would affect the community.

STEELER - Tiger Merger Rumored

Pittsburgh, Jan. 30 (AP)—"Never again," said officials of the Pittsburgh Steelers grid pros when they split a big deficit and a winless season with the Chicago Cardinals last year, but co-owner Art Rooney has indicated he might change his mind about mergers.

The Brooklyn Tigers announced it might merge with the Steelers, with Jock Sutherland hinted as the coach of the combine to which Rooney said.

"It's news to me. However we certainly need players, and if Brooklyn wants to merge with us and play all home games in Pittsburgh, I am certain that my partner, Bert Bell, and I would give it serious consideration."

He added, "however, it all sounds sort of farfetched to me."

SEEK ACCORD ON MANPOWER BILL

Washington, Jan. 30 (AP) — The House Labor Committee moved today to take some of the fire out of a manpower controversy raging in the House.

The group headed by Representative Norton (D., N. J.) met to determine the future of the Fair Employment Practices Committee (FEPC). This anti-discrimination agency has become an issue in congressional legislation for men between 18 and 45.

Should the labor committee order immediate hearings on bills to make permanent the FEPC's program aimed at preventing discrimination in employment because of race, creed or color, House leaders were hopeful the issue could be taken out of the Manpower Bill.

However, Representative Hook (D., Mich.), announced as the House began its second day of debate on the manpower measure that he would offer an amendment to give immediate statutory backing to the FEPC.

The Democratic leadership also was trying, without apparent success, to persuade backers of tighter union controls to abandon their fight for the time being. That move, also, seemed doomed to failure.

Du Bois, Pa., Jan. 30 (AP)—Hundreds of pounds of shelled corn dropped by low-flying airplanes in the mountains of central Pennsylvania were doing much today to prevent starvation of wild turkeys.

George Eck, president of the Gateway Sportsmen's Association, said the hedge-hopping pilots have completed more than 20 missions in the feeding project.

More than a month of intermittent snow had sealed off the natural food, Eck said, when his fellow sportsmen hit upon the idea of soliciting the aid of the Du Bois civil air patrol.

Seven large flocks of turkeys have been saved, he said.

MARTIN'S PURE STREAM BILL IS IN DIFFICULTIES

In addition to giving a broader definition of industrial wastes, the measure also would increase penalties for violation.

Rep. Charles H. Brunner, Jr., (R-Montgomery), sponsor of the measure, said that cost interests were trying to defeat it.

Legislative activity last night, opening another week of the 1945 session, was limited to passage of three non-controversial bills by the senate and submission of a number of new bills in both branches.

Senate bills sent to the House by unanimous vote would:

Increase from $5 to $10 the compensation for constables and deputy constables for election day duties, Wallace S. Gourley, (D-Washington).

Appropriate $60,000 to complete construction of facilities and operation of a nautical school by the Navigation Commission for the Delaware river, Howard I. James, (R-Bucks).

May Raise Own Salaries

Appropriate $10,000 to remove sunken wrecks from tideway of the Delaware river, Louis H. Farrell, (R-Bucks).

An administration measure to abolish the general state authority, the commonwealth's depression-born building agency, through retirement of $49,000,000 in bonds outstanding was proposed in the senate by Charles H. Ealy, (R-Somerset).

Use of money from the state treasury's $170,000,000 surplus to carry out this project was recommended by Governor Martin.

The salary of representatives and senators would be increased from $3,000 to $4,800 a biennium under a bill sponsored by Sen. John J. Haluska, (D-Cambria).

Would Bring PUC Before Senate Group

Harrisburg, Jan. 30 (AP)—A second resolution seeking the appearance of the Public Utility Commission before a Senate committee awaits action in that branch of the general assembly.

Democratic Senators H. Jerome Jaspas, Philadelphia, and Elmer J. Holland, Allegheny, sponsored a proposal yesterday to request the PUC to explain why it dismissed an 11-year-old rate complaint against the Pennsylvania Power and Light company.

"The present order of the commission," Jaspas said, "not only nullifies the previous rate reductions but opens the door for future increases of about 16 per cent on the basis of today's business and of 30 per cent on basis of 1937 operations at the will of P. P. and L. Co."

Senators Carleton T. Woodring (D-Northampton) and Holland previously submitted a resolution calling on the Senate Utilities Committee to investigate the delay of the PUC in dealing with the Bangor borough-Bangor Water Company rate case instituted in 1941.

FOUR YEARS AGO TODAY

(By The Associated Press)
Jan. 30, 1941—Speaking on the eighth anniversary of his rise to power, Adolf Hitler declares that German submarines will sink all ships, including neutrals, that carry supplies to Britain.

Wendell Wilkie and Harry L. Hopkins experience air raids in London.

Appeal To Boche To Surrender

Paris, Jan. 30 (AP) — On the eve of the widely-heralded big three conference, the Allies have begun showering German lines with leaflets explaining the "unconditional surrender" goal announced at Casablanca, it was disclosed today.

Unconditional surrender, the pamphlets declare, "would not mean that Germans who surrender would be at the mercy of the victorious side." On the contrary, they would "be under the protection of the Geneva convention and would be treated with fairness."

The pamphlets, one of the first direct attempts by Allied propagandists in recent months to drive a wedge between the German people and their rulers, also say:

"It is the wish of the Allies to give the German people the possibility for normal peaceful development as members of the European family of nations."

Consider Roll Call Device For Assembly

Harrisburg, Jan. 30 (AP)—Representatives in the general assembly may soon vote by pushing a button at their desk instead of waiting for their names to be called by a voice-tied clerk.

A resolution sponsored by Rep. Charles H. Brunner, Jr., (R-Montgomery), was adopted last night to set up a committee of five to study the device and submit a report.

A roll call of the 208 representatives now takes about 15 minutes but Brunner said the vote of the House could be recorded within a few minutes by the electrical device.

MARYLAND MEN WAR VICTIMS

Pfc. John W. Little, 34, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Little, of Emmitsburg, has been missing in action since January 8 in Belgium, a War department telegram has notified relatives.

Pfc. Little, who had been a tankman, was wounded about the face and left leg in November, relatives said, when his tank was hit. He was able to return to action shortly thereafter, he reported, after the "medics" treated him. Relatives are uncertain whether he had been transferred after that time to the infantry, although there was some indication to that effect, it was said.

With Patton's Third Army, Pfc. Little's last letter home said he was well and was expecting to be sent to some other country, which he could not identify, within a short time. This letter was dated December 27.

Pfc. Little had been in service about three years being stationed at Camp Cook, Calif. and Camp Chaffee, Okla., before going overseas last February. He was home for the last time to attend his father's funeral in December, 1943. Before entering service, he was employed at St. Joseph's college, Emmitsburg.

Richard Hull
A telegram from the War department has notified Mrs. Margaret Hull, of Taneytown, that her son, Richard, was killed in action in Belgium January 12, 1945, aged 25, had not been home since entering the service. An older brother, Sterling, is also in service overseas and is stationed in Iran.

Pfc. Charles P. Lockner, Taneytown, first reported missing in action, has been located in a hospital in England. He is undergoing treatment for frozen feet.

Private Harold Griffith, husband of Mrs. Almeda Marsteller Griffith, 113 South Pine street, York, was killed in Belgium, December 21, according to a telegram received by his wife from the War department. Private Griffith was inducted into the service March 27, 1944, and had been overseas only about six weeks. A member of the infantry, he received training at Camp Blanding, Fla., and Fort Meade, Md. He served with the 30th division, known as "Old Hickory."

A sister, Mrs. Richard J. McCullough, resides in Emmitsburg.

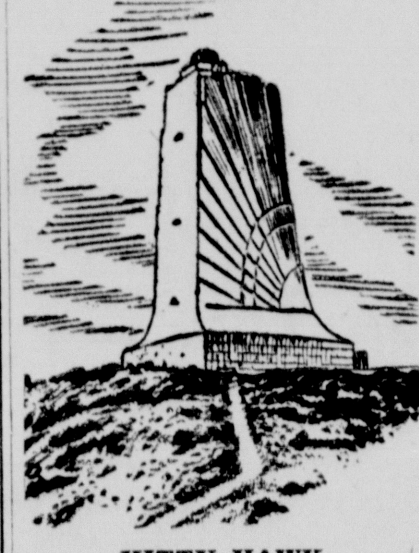

4TH TYPHOID DEATH

Philadelphia, Jan. 30 (AP)—The death of Joseph Goodover, 29, brought to four the number of deaths here from typhoid fever since last Wednesday. Health officials expressed the belief that the spread of the disease, which reached 30 cases in less than a week, has been checked.

Oil City, Pa., Jan. 30 (AP)—February 12 has been set as the definite date for a community ceremony for presentation of the Distinguished Service Cross and other medals to Stanley Gabryszewski in behalf of his son, Lt. Col. Francis S. Gabreski, fighter pilot act now a prisoner of war in Germany.

Bonds Over America

KITTY HAWK

Distance was annihilated, war revolutionized by three years of glider flights and a 39-second motorized airplane test by the Wright brothers at Kitty Hawk, N. C. In 1938 residents of Kitty Hawk erected a monument to those historic tests; later the Federal Government dedicated the Wright Memorial Monument and a 350-acre park on Kill Devil Hill "in commemoration of the conquest of air by the brothers Wilbur and Orville Wright." Flights today of B-29's, fighter planes, scouts and transports prove how vital were those tests and inspire Americans to buy War Bonds for expansion of aviation to win complete victory. U. S. DIMES, DOLLARS MARK BIRTHDAY FOR PRESIDENT

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Washington, Jan. 30 (AP)—With Dimes and Dollars, America said "Happy Birthday" to President Roosevelt today.

But the event was secondary on a calendar on which another big three meeting is booked "soon."

At parties and balls over the nation, thousands are observing the 63rd birthday of the man in the White House and chipping in millions to battle infantile paralysis.

While they frolicked much in the manner of less sombre years, wartime activities of surpassing importance precluded the chief executive's personal participation in any of the public festivities.

Making Preparations

Mr. Roosevelt himself is authority for repeated statements that he expects to confer soon with Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin on efforts to achieve a total victory and carve out an enduring peace.

A chain of developments including a tour of European capitals by Harry L. Hopkins, has underlined the imminence of the parley. London dispatches have clocked Hopkins there, in Paris and in Rome, in preparation for the conference.

Friends of both Churchill and the President, Hopkins also is chairman of the Anglo-American munitions board.

Stettinius Gone Too

Disclosure has been permitted in Washington of the absence from the country of James F. Byrnes, director of war mobilization and reconversion.

Secretary of State Stettinius has announced acceptance of a Presidential invitation to attend the British-Russian-American conference.

For a week, Joseph C. Grew has been acting secretary—and the state department explains merely that Stettinius is "out of town."

Special missions in Europe also are taking three key men of the White House staff overseas.

Loans His Birthday

Press Secretary Stephen Early to examine public relations at Supreme Allied headquarters. Presidential counsel Samuel I. Rosenman to survey the need for civilian supplies and administrative assistant Lauchlin Currie to try to choke off Swiss aid to Germany.

Himself a victim of infantile paralysis in his middle years, Mr. Roosevelt has loaned his birthday ever since he entered the White House to stamp out the disease.

This anniversary finds him leaner by five or ten pounds but his physician, Vice Admiral Ross T. McIntyre, reported him in excellent shape when he took the oath of office for a fourth term ten days ago.

Recent world history, with Dr. Wilbur E. Tibberg, dean of the college, as instructor. The first meeting will be held February 7 at the same time.

These courses may be given for two or three credits depending on the demand, the announcement said. The college is offering in-service teachers a special rate of $10 per credit for all of the courses. Registration will be conducted at the end of the first class meeting of each course.

Other Recommendations

Among the other recommendations coming from the council's January meeting were the following:

"The district committees of the Adams County Teachers association should schedule regular meetings for the purpose of discussing local problems. Several districts may unite in order to get a better exchange of ideas. Out of these meetings should grow programs that may be followed up at the Teachers Institute."

"In addition to general meetings, the institute program should provide for discussion groups of social, economic and educational topics."

Urge Curriculum Group

"Participation in curriculum building is one of the most fruitful experiences in which teachers can engage. Therefore, a curriculum committee should be formed on a county-wide basis to prepare a specific course of study for use in the Adams county schools."

"Adult discussion groups should be organized in high schools and consolidated centers for the purpose of discussing local, national and international problems."

The conclusions were formulated by a committee composed of Miss Warner; Prof. Leslie V. Stock, supervising principal of the Biglerville schools; Prof. Charles R. Wolfe, dean of admissions and registrar at Gettysburg college; Prof. C. E. Bilheimer, head of the college physics education department; Prof. G. W. Lefever, principal of Gettysburg high school; Doctor Kramer and Dr. Robert A. Bream, assistant county superintendent of schools.

Nickel, chromium, molybdenum, and vanadium are used in a number of alloy steels to make them stronger and tougher.

Explosion Demolishes Massachusetts Home

Rubble is all that remains of a South Dartmouth, Mass., home after a mysterious explosion during the night claimed the life of an aged woman and her son. Dartmouth police reported a plane overhead at the time of the explosion but both Army and Navy headquarters issued statements saying their planes were not involved. The Army further stated that "there was nothing to indicate the explosion was caused by enemy action." (AP Wirephoto.)

The points produced in 1944 resulted in amounts of produce equal to or above the average production of similar farms in the county in which his farm is located. Third, that he is essential to the farm operation. That his induction would result in the loss of a large volume of essential food production or remove a large acreage of land from cultivation. And, fourth, that the registrant cannot be suitably replaced.

Congressman Chester H. Gross, of this district, commenting on the Congressional Universal Military Training Bill, said:

"I have opposed military training in peacetime ever since I have been in Congress and I see no justifiable reason for changing my position at this time."

"It is my considered opinion that at the conclusion of present hostilities we shall have a large force of men trained in modern warfare returned to this country. This force will be adequate for several years to come, and then if world events prove we must train all our boys as this bill proposes, we could then adopt such a measure."

Some war bond owners are laboring under a misunderstanding relative to the time to convert a war bond into cash. The Treasury Department has ruled that war bonds "may be redeemed at the current redemption value at the option of the owner any time after 60 days from date of issue." The owner also must be identified. Bond holders, however, are being urged to retain their bonds and not to convert them into cash.

Steelers - Tiger Merger Rumored

Pittsburgh, Jan. 30 (AP)—"Never again," said officials of the Pittsburgh Steelers grid pros when they split a big deficit and a winless season with the Chicago Cardinals last year, but co-owner Art Rooney has indicated he might change his mind about mergers.

The Brooklyn Tigers announced it might merge with the Steelers, with Jock Sutherland hinted as the coach of the combine, to which Rooney said:

"It's news to me. However, we certainly need players, and if Brooklyn wants to merge with us and play all home games in Pittsburgh, I am certain that my partner, Bert Bell, and I would give it serious consideration."

He added, "however, it all sounds sort of farfetched to me."

Navy Fliers Blast Hong Kong Dockyards

Bombs burst and smoke pours from Japanese installations in the Taikoo dockyard, Hong Kong, China, during the January 16th raid by U. S. Navy planes from Vice Admiral John S. McCain's fast carrier task force. Bomb explosion to the left damaged and set fire to a 4,500-ton freighter-transport ship. To the right smoke rises from a direct hit on machine shops. accident? Why not include illness? Why just cover the wage earner? Why not cover his family?

Doctor Hale quoted the results of a number of surveys in various schools to support his talk. In closing he said, "I wish to summarize our national health problem," by saying that it involves detection and correction of physical defects. Correction involves care of the indigent and easing of the financial burden of catastrophic illness among our working classes." In a summary of his proposed set-up Doctor Hale listed the following points:

"We have provided for detection of physical defects by relegating the responsibility of group physical examinations to our State Department of Health."

Employment Standards

"We have given the responsibility of caring for and correction of the indigent to the State Department of Health."

"We have added a compulsory phase to the correction of defects by having the State Department of Health set up physical standards for employment."

"We have eased the burden on the working classes by providing for them an adequate form of health and accident insurance."

"An integrating agency, the U. S. Public Health Department, has been provided and under it has been merged several present independent government endeavors."

"And last of all, the system provides a workable compromise between the advocates of complete socialization of medicine on the one hand and complete private control on the other with Mr. Cluzen and our nation as the beneficiaries."

Miss Jones Speaks

Doctor Hale was introduced by Dr. Robert A. Bream, assistant county superintendent of schools and vice-president of the Welfare committee. Mrs. Rasmus S. Saby, the committee president, presided at the meeting.

Miss Mary Hobson Jones, public assistance representative for the eastern area, also spoke briefly on the legislative bills on assistance work which are being considered by the assembly in session at the present time.

Following Doctor Hale's talk, a discussion was held by members of the audience on the various points of the physician's address.

Mrs. Saby announced the date of next meeting as February 19 when a discussion will be held on the proposed welfare and social legislation now being introduced in the assembly, and how such legislation would affect the community.

SEEK ACCORD ON MANPOWER BILL

Washington, Jan. 30 (AP) — The House Labor Committee moved today to take some of the fire out of a manpower controversy raging in the House.

The group headed by Representative Norton (D., N. J.) met to determine the future of the Fair Employment Practices Committee (FEPC). This anti-discrimination agency has become an issue in consideration of limited national service legislation for men between 18 and 45.

Should the labor committee order immediate hearings on bills to make permanent the FEPC's program aimed at preventing discrimination in employment because of race, creed or color, House leaders were hopeful the issue could be taken out of the Manpower Bill.

However, Representative Hook (D., Mich.), announced as the House began its second day of debate on the manpower measure that he would offer an amendment to give immediate statutory backing to the FEPC.

The Democratic leadership also was trying, without apparent success, to persuade backers of tighter union controls to abandon their fight for the time being. That move, also, seemed doomed to failure.

Feed Wild Turkeys Corn By Airplane

Du Bois, Pa., Jan. 30 (AP)—Hundreds of pounds of shelled corn dropped by low-flying airplanes in the mountains of central Pennsylvania were doing much today to prevent starvation of wild turkeys.

George Eck, president of the Gateway Sportsmen's Association, said the hedge-hopping pilots have completed more than 20 missions in the feeding project.

More than a month of intermittent snow had sealed off the natural food, Eck said, when his fellow sportsmen hit upon the idea of soliciting the aid of the Du Bois civil air patrol.

Seven large flocks of turkeys have been saved, he said.

Just Folks
THE SILENT BRAVE
So peaceful lie the dead who fought all day;
All done forever with the need to strive
With ancient hate and prejudice and rage!
Donors of glory to times furthest age.

They'll be remembered! Heroes one and all!
Their deeds will song and pageant
oft recall;
Praise their portion; flowers
with every spring;
Armies will march for them, and church bells ring.

But could they speak who died at duty's task,
What think you of the living they would ask?
This, and no more: that war on earth should cease
And men should find the way to lasting peace.

Today's Talk
ENVY YOURSELF
After all is said and done, the great fact remains that each of us was created as an entity. A magnificent piece of human machinery, an entire organization, with hidden resources and possibilities, all in their raw state, but awaiting discovery!

We were created and put into this world to be somebody, to do something, to live, love, and learn.
It was meant that we should enjoy a life of movement, of discovery, and of achievement. From all of this development and growth do we owe the happiness that we gain, or that we justly deserve.

Why then, should not all of us envy ourselves? Certainly there is no reason why we should envy anyone else when in ourselves lies so much that is neither discovered nor developed. The joy of the thing, the thrill of it all—that's to live. That's to envy the privilege that belongs to every last one of us—singly.

To envy someone else is to create resentment, or perhaps bitterness, but to envy yourself is to create incentive and initiative. To recognize this truth, and take up with it, is to fulfill the purpose of your creation, of mine, and of all.

No two human beings have ever been created exactly alike. Every one of us has gifts that are unique to us alone. It's the development and enlargement of these that place us where we are free to be openly appraised by all.

There are unlimited numbers of frontiers to be discovered and conquered from the vast area of the human mind. Our will remains forever as our servant. We freely choose our objectives. How we should envy ourselves, because of all that we may avail us throughout life! Each of us is an embryonic pioneer.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Happy People"

Disappearance of Land-Marks:
The taking down of the front wall of the Dr. Brennenman property, on Baltimore street (recently bought by Dr. McKnight) shows that of the three buildings on Baltimore street, it being the center, the one on the alley, now occupied by Geo. E. Stock (formerly Hon. Moses McClean), was the first built. The Brennenman house was built against it. And the three-story was built last. John Mc-Conaughy built it in 1817, the year after Col. Cobean built the other three-story on the public square. My earliest recollection of the Stock house is of its occupancy by Andrew G. Miller, Esq., about 1835. The building now undergoing demolition,
I first recall as occupied about the same time, by James Gowen as a confectionery, after which time it had a series of tenants, chiefly professional. Hon. William McClean, whose present office is one door north, had for many years a law office in it, with his father. The old land-marks of the town are gradually disappearing and this was one of them.—E. McP.

SCHOOL NEEDS OF VETERANS
ARE DISCUSSED

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Jan. 30 (AP)—If you were shocked by the recent picture of a 22-year-old war veteran back among children in a Florida grammar school, maybe some figures here will shock you.

When you saw that picture of the veteran who had returned for a little more education, you may have thought: "How does he fit in among children and how does he feel?"

Well, listen to this: Probably 15 million men will have served in the armed forces by war's end and of that number:

It is estimated that 525,000 went no further than 4th grade in grammar school; 4,400,000 quit somewhere between the 4th and 8th grades; and 5 million had less than 4 years' high school.

10 Million Under U.S. Level
That means approximately 10 million of the 15 million men in the armed services never finished high school. The remainder have had some college training or are eligible for college training.

Congress has provided funds—under the "G. I. Bill of Rights"— for veterans to get at least a year's schooling at government expense and for some of them to complete their schooling.

Those with high school credits could resume their high schooling although for many it would mean sitting among boys much younger than themselves.

It would be tougher on those among the 5 million who never finished grammar school but, getting a little education in the Army, would like more.

Cause For Concern
In many cases it would mean going back to school among children.
This whole problem has caused active concern among officials of government agencies and private organizations which deal in one way or another with education.

A number of them have met here, discussed the problem, formed a committee, and elected as chairman Dr. Howard A. Dawson, director of rural services of the National Education association.

Dr. Dawson's group sees the problem this way:

States and communities, perhaps with federal help, should make arrangements to give education to returning veterans who want it but to do it in such a way that they'd be encouraged to take it.

This might mean setting up special classes—for instance, with veterans who never finished grammar school—with teachers who know how to instruct men in the three R's.

Col. Roosevelt
Blames Conductor

Los Angeles, Jan. 30 (AP)—Col.
James Roosevelt, the President's son, says that at the suggestion of a Pullman Conductor he sent a telegram which railroad officials said resulted in a one hour and seven minute delay in the departure of a train from Chicago.

The Marine Corps officer told reporters here that he and his wife were returning from his father's inauguration on the Pennsylvania Railroad's Manhattan Limited, bound for Chicago, when the wire was sent.

"When we reached Crestline, Ohio, Saturday, the Pullman conductor began making out a list of passengers going west of Chicago because we were running late," said
Col. Roosevelt, adding:

"I was ninth on the list. He asked if I was traveling on duty status and I said I was. He suggested sending a wire and we worded it together, just stating that we'd be in Chicago at 6 p. m. and we'd appreciate it if they would consider the fact that we'd like to make the City of Los Angeles train at that time. I just assumed that this was normal railroad practice."

Car Shortage Hits Coal Transportation

Washington, Jan. 30 (AP)—Secretary Ickes said today decreased coal production due to railroad car shortages at the mines is expected to continue this week.

It will cost the United States "several million tons of fuel it can ill afford to lose at this time," said
Ickes in his capacity of Solid Fuels Administrator.

Rail car congestion in ice-clogged northern yards delayed the unloading and return of cars to mines during the week ended Jan. 20, holding down production of both bituminous and anthracite, Ickes reported. The three day rail embargo on shipments from mines in the north and northeast also contributed to the decreased output.

Senate Measures
Other new state bills would:
Require persons between the ages of 21 and 23 to show identification cards issued by the state Liquor Control Board in purchasing alcoholic beverages, A. H. Letzler (R., Clearfield).

Permit municipalities to impose a 33.13 per cent tax on gross revenue of underlying companies holding street franchises on which transportation companies operate trolleys and buses, Elmer J. Holland (D., Allegheny).

Permit appeal to superior court all county court decisions involving retail and wholesale beer and liquor licenses, Wildon B. Heyburn (R., Delaware).

Leaves From Diary Of War Correspondent

By HAL BOYLE
With the U. S. First Army in Belgium, Jan. 22 (Delayed) (AP)—Foxhole fun:

The reaction of the average Belgian barber on seeing frontline doughboy haircuts is a startled exclamation:

"Mon dieu! est un massacre!"

This scalped look of most infantrymen results from trusting their skulls while on line duty to amateur barbers in their own ranks whose ambition is to make the top of the head look like a billiard ball.

One of the most avid students of frontline tonsorial architecture is
Pvt. Bradford McCuen of Chazy, N.
Y., who has tabulated the varieties of standard soldier haircuts developed by First Infantry Division clipper artists. He has summarized the results of his studies.

"The Hairy James Special"
"On a foggy day," McCuen wrote,
"it is possible to observe the following styles readily:

"The Soupbowl Hairdo—There is always a ragged wisp of hair at the nape of the neck indicating where the bowl was clipped.

"The Hairy James Special—Beginning at a high pitch around the forehead, it hits bass at the back of the skull and then climbs the ladder in sharp progressions.

"The Wall St. Bull and Bear—This one is especially rare. It has contrasting ups and downs almost as though the victim was eating an apple while being shorn.

Other Specialties
"The Incoming Mail Surprise—
This startling effect is the result of enemy shelling of the immediate proximity of the barber shop. Little, if any, hair survives.

"The Jekyll and Hyde Haircut—
This is created when the barber has completed one side of the head and then is called away on another job.
He never comes back and the victim sports a split personality.

"The Cueball Cutup—Probably the most popular among beginners. This consists of best intentions on the part of the barber but usually winds up with a razor and a bald pate.

"Drop around for a haircut anytime the barbers aren't fighting," McCuen concludes, "and we can guarantee that your best friend won't tell you—he won't even know you."

Permanent By Mistake
But it was a Belgian professional barber who brought woe into the life of Pte. Santo Dangelo, of St.
Louis, Mo.

Back in Belgium recently on a pass from a chemical mortar battalion fighting in Germany, Dangelo dropped into a barbershop. He speaks neither French nor German and had a hard time getting the

More Snow Falls In Western Penna.

Pittsburgh, Jan. 30 (AP)—More snow fell today in Western Pennsylvania, adding to the troubles of road-workers.

Snowfall at Pittsburgh since December 11 measures 43.5 inches, the weather bureau reported, but in other counties the fall was running much greater, exceeding 100 inches.
Cambria reported 105½ inches.

Speculation that a flood might follow the thaw caused Army engineers yesterday to issue a statement saying the snowfall "represents a definite flood hazard," but that "it should not be assumed that a severe flood necessarily will follow."

Both Meteorologist W. S. Brotz-man and the engineers said the real danger lies in the possibility that heavy, warm rains might occur to accelerate the melting of the snow.

barber to understand him. But finally he obtained his haircut. Then he asked for a shampoo and ran into another language roadblock.

After the soldier had gestulated grandly as if rubbing his own head the barber called in a female attendant. Both finally nodded and smiled—they were sure they understood.

They ushered Dangelo into an adjoining room where the female attendants took over. The weary soldier dozed off in a chair.

Two hours later he crawled out of the barbershop with a haunted look. He didn't get a shampoo—but he did have the prettiest new permanent wave in the Army!

tinguishable by its color and ornament and made to suit every class

FDR PUBLICLY BACKS WALLACE
AS 'NEEDED' MAN

New York, Jan. 30 (AP)—Henry
A. Wallace, his political future challenged by a Senate threat to deny him confirmation as Secretary of Commerce, carried an endorsement by President Roosevelt today as a leader needed by the nation "now more than ever before."

This personal expression of confidence was contained in a message from the President which was read last night at a testimonial dinner to Wallace given by the Union for Democratic Action and the new Republic magazine.

A galaxy of business executives who had rallied to Wallace's cause heard the President's message, which declared that "America, its people and its government need Henry Wallace now more than ever before."

Message Dated January 17
Wallace, who spoke at the dinner, did not mention the message. In a prepared address which touched on the proposal that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and other lending agencies be removed from the control of the Secretary of Commerce, Wallace said he would prefer not to have the Cabinet post "if there were serious danger of a 'too little' and 'too late' man being appointed" to head the RFC.

President Roosevelt's message was his first mention of Wallace since the Senate Commerce Committee rejected the former Vice President's nomination as Commerce Secretary by a vote of 14-5. However, the message bore the date of January 17, which was five days before Wallace was named for the post.

"I count on his aid, his wisdom and his courage in the difficult ways to the magnificent hopes we hold for a world worthy of his faith in the people and the struggles of free people everywhere, which have so spondently justified that faith," said the message.

way in an area of 10,629 square miles.

MRS. BOETTIGER IN 'BLAZE' CASE

Washington, Jan. 30 (AP)—The Post said today that Col. Elliott Roosevelt's sister, Mrs. Anna Boet-tigger, arranged for his dog Blaze to be flown to California in an Army cargo plane.

The dog's flight on an "A" priority is being investigated by a Senate military subcommittee because three servicemen were put off the plane at Memphis, Tenn.

The newspaper said it had learned from an informed source that the President's daughter, who lives at the White House, called Col. R. W.
Ireland of the Air Transport Command. The latter, the Post account continued, made the necessary space available, and "it was understood, then ordered the dog dispatched on his own authority."

Colonel Roosevelt, whose nomination to be a brigadier general in the Air Forces went to the senate last week, has denied any responsibility for the dog's flight on a priority basis. Recently returned to duty in London, he told newsmen there he flew the English bull mastiff across the Atlantic and left it at the White House in the hope it could be flown to his bride, Actress Faye Emerson, in Los Angeles, if any empty bomber happened to be going that way on an operational flight.

All white male cats with blue eyes are deaf, but no reason for this curious condition has been found.

The Third Army was close to or across the German frontier all the way from Saarautern to Oberhausen.

To the north, Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' First Army advanced nearly two miles early today in the darkness fighting into Murrange, 15 miles northwest of Prum. Opposition was relatively light; the Germans were beating their way back into the Siegfried line. The First took 925 prisoners yesterday and expected a larger total today.

The Seventh Army in Alsace was snowbound for the third day. At the northern end of the Colmar pocket below Strasbourg, the U. S. Third and 28th Divisions, now fighting under French command, wedged within a half mile of the northeast outskirts of Colmar, home of the designer of the Statue of Liberty.

The Third Division stabbed within about three miles of the Rhine, and threatened to lop off a German salient north toward Strasbourg.

The French were closing around Cernay from three sides at the south end of the Colmar pocket. Fifty German tanks have been destroyed in ten days by the French alone.

The Berlin radio this morning announced an increasing tempo in artillery fire from two sections of the western front.

Cut Super-Highway

Zhuikov's troops had cut the main Danzig-Berlin super-highway and trunk railway at several places. Other Red Army units pushing northward into the Polish corridor to secure his upper flank seized Prusacz, 68 miles southwest of Danzig, and Komierowo, seven miles to the west.

Zhuikov's northern wing captured Driesen, 93 miles northeast of Berlin along the Danzig railway, and Woldenberg, 57 miles southeast of Stralin, astride the Berlin-Danzig highway. More than 150 localities were seized in Pomerania.

At the same time Zhukov's central columns pushing west of Poznan swept up 400 localities, including the Polish town of Miedzychod, 16 miles south of Driesen and 93 miles from Berlin. They were striking between the Odra and Warthe (Warta) rivers, with no natural waterway barring their way into Germany.

The supplement to the Moscow communiqué said that during the day's fighting Zhukov's troops killed more than 4,000 German officers and men, and took 100 prisoners. Captured booty included 12 tanks, 70 guns, 300 motor vehicles, 60 locomotives and 50 railway trains.

Chapter 1

Mike O'Shane swore softly as the sweat-streaked pony beneath him stumbled. Swiftly, he kicked free of the oxbow stirrups and slid clear as the paint crashed in a flurry of dust.

"Guess you're through. Spot, but you got sand, plenty," he growled regretfully.

Sun-scorched features tense, O'Shane swept the back trail. Slowly his pugnacious jaw relaxed and his freckled features crinkled into a relieved grin as he searched in vain for the dust clouds that had stubbornly ballooned in his wake for ten relentless hours.

From ahead, faint but distinct through the clear desert air, came the sharp crack of a Winchester. A second, a third shot followed.

Instantly, O'Shane's stocky form galvanized into alert watchfulness. His wary eyes glimpsed two faint dust clouds, drifting lazily in the distance. "Two hombres, riding hell for leather," he muttered.

The invasion turned the southern end of a miniature Siegfried line that ran north from Schneidemuhl, 50 miles northwest of Poznan. The Germans said Schneidemuhl was encircled.

Cut Super-Highway

Zhuikov's troops had cut the main Danzig-Berlin super-highway and trunk railway at several places. Other Red Army units pushing northward into the Polish corridor to secure his upper flank seized Prusatz, 68 miles southwest of Danzig, and Komierow, seven miles to the west.

Zhuikov's northern wing captured Driesen, 93 miles northeast of Berlin along the Danzig railway, and Woldenberg, 57 miles southeast of Stettin, astride the Berlin-Danzig highway. More than 150 localities were seized in Pomerania.

At the same time Zhukov's central columns pushing west of Poznan swept up 400 localities, including the Polish town of Miedzychod, 16 miles south of Driesen and 93 miles from Berlin. They were striking between the Odra and Warthe (Warta) rivers, with no natural waterway barring their way into Germany.

The supplement to the Moscow communiqué said that during the day's fighting Zhukov's troops killed more than 4,000 German officers and men, and took 100 prisoners. Captured booty included 12 tanks, 70 guns, 300 motor vehicles, 60 locomotives and 50 railway trains.

Chapter 1 Mike O'Shane swore softly as the sweat-streaked pony beneath him stumbled. Swiftly, he kicked free of the oxbow stirrups and slid clear as the paint crashed in a flurry of dust.

"Guess you're through, Spot, but you got sand, aplenty," he growled regretfully.

Sun-scorched features tense, O'Shane swept the back trail. Slowly his pugnacious jaw relaxed and his freckled features crinkled into a relieved grin as he searched in vain for the dust clouds that had stubbornly ballooned in his wake for ten relentless hours.

From ahead, faint but distinct through the clear desert air, came the sharp crack of a Winchester. A second, a third shot followed.

Instantly, O'Shane's stocky form galvanized into alert watchfulness. His wary eyes glimpsed two faint dust clouds, drifting lazily in the distance. "Two hombres, riding hell for leather," he muttered.

For a mile he plodded ahead, tensed and vigilant, angled around a clump of buckthorn, and jerked to a quick stop. Close ahead, stood a riderless roan pony, ground hitched.

Hand upon the butt of his gun, O'Shane approached warily. A groan reached his ears. His gaze darted down to the body of a man half hidden in the stage.

He sank on his knees beside the still figure. Young, figured O'Shane, not much more than his own age. Blood seeped slowly from two bullet holes, one high above the heart, the second dead center.

He pried open the clenched teeth and trickled the water in his canteen down the wounded man's throat.

The stricken man's eyelids quivered, opened.

"Set quiet, amigo," said O'Shane. "You're hit, bad."

"Will I—check—out?" came in a labored croak.

"No sense in fooling you, pard," returned O'Shane. "I guess you're through."

"How long I got?" he asked.

O'Shane shrugged. "I'm no sawbones. Mebbe two—three hours. You know this country?"

"Born—here."

"Any town I could tote you to and get a doc?"

"Big River's the—nearest—ten miles west."

O'Shane shook his head slowly. "You'd never make it, pard."

"Gun fight?" O'Shane presently inquired.

"Bushman! I never—got a peep—at the coyote who—plugged me."

"Two," corrected O'Shane. "I saw their dust. What they got against you?"

"Nothing—haven't been around—since I was—knee high."

Wilkins Holds To Top Scoring Honors
New York, Jan. 30 (AP) — Dick Wilkins, whose Oregon team took the northern division of the Pacific coast conference, retained the number one spot last week in the National Individual High Scoring basketball race.
Wilkins flipped in 28 points during two games against Washington to boost his season total to 373 points on 166 field goals and 41 charity tosses in 31 games.
George Mikan, of DePaul, scored 30 points in two games. He now has 320 in 15 games and enjoys a better per-game average than Wilkins.
Stan McWilliams of the College of Pacific ran wild with 46 points in three games and took over third place with 317 points.
Rounding out the first five are Bill Henry of Rhode and Ernie Calvery of Rhode Island State with 285 and 283, respectively.

Debate Rookie-Of-The-Year Trophy
(By The Associated Press)
Frank McCool's week-end feat has started the hot-voice debate boys off again on heated discussion of the Calder trophy—best rookie-of-the-year award. Toronto's Irish netminder pushed himself to the fore-front of the Calder-contenders with his two shutouts over Rangers.
But the argument as to whether he will get the award centers around the record set by last year's outstanding rookie backstop, Bill Durnan. Playing with Canadiens, Durnan was a standout in the twines.
In 30 games, big Bill let 109 pucks past him. That average of 2.18 goals-against per game won him the Vezina trophy, for fewest goals against, in walkaway style. Phil Phan, the figure Philibert of the hot-voice league, points out that with 33 games tucked under his belt, McCool has been beaten 106 times—average 3.12.

CAGE SCANDAL HITS BROOKLYN COLLEGE FIVE
By TED MEIER
Brooklyn, Jan. 30 (AP)—A scandal akin to baseball's Chicago Black Sox affair broke with unexpected suddenness in the collegiate basketball world late last night.
Edward Heffernan and Louis Anderson, assistant district attorneys of Kings county, announced five players of the Brooklyn college team had signed a statement they had received $1,000 to throw the Akron game scheduled for tomorrow in Boston and that arrangements were under way to fix the St. Francis game scheduled for February 10 at Madison Garden.
(In Boston, General Manager Tom Kanaly of the Boston Garden cancelled the Brooklyn-Akron game and said he would try to get another opponent for the Akron team already on its way to the game.)
The prosecutors said the players, whom they identified as Bernard Barnett, Larry Pearlstein, Robert Leder, Jerry Green and Stanley Simon, made the statement after two of them, Barnett and Pearlstein, had been taken into custody while in the company of two men booked as Harry Rosen and Harvey Stemmer.
The two men, described as gamblers by the police, were arrested and charged with conspiracy. No charges were made against the players.
This is the story the prosecutors told:
Barnett and Pearlstein were observed to enter the Rosen home yesterday. Police followed the three to Stemmer's house where all four were taken into custody.
Received $1,000
Questioned at headquarters the two players-implicated the other three. The five said they had received an anonymous telephone call several days ago suggesting there was a way to make some easy money. On January 22 each received $100. The next day Barnett received another $500 to split among them.
Stemmer, the prosecutors related, declared he had given the players the $1,000 to bet on Akron for him.
The players were to receive an additional $2,000 after the game.
For their part in the St. Francis game (scheduled February 10 at Madison Square Garden as the first tilt of the Notre Dame-New York university twin bill) Leder, Barnett and Green each was to receive $600 and Pearlstein $350. It had not yet been decided how much Simon was to get.

Al Heiden Leads Bowlers In Tourney
Chicago, Jan. 30 (AP)—Al Heiden of Detroit, who took the top spot Sunday, still held the lead today in the $43,200 Petersen individual bowling classic after 352 of 1,728 entrants had fired their shots.
Ninety-six more bowlers went to the line yesterday in an effort to wrest the lead from Heiden, but none of them approached Heiden's mark of 1,577 for the eight games each entrant must bowl across 16 alleys.
Alfred Krbec of Chicago topped the three squads of 22 men each in yesterday's competition with 1,521. That score was good only for a tie for seventh place, with Emil Kashmerick of Detroit.
Joe Dumesic, of Kenosha, Wis., clung to second place with 1,549, and Stanley Steffanic of Cleveland, was in third with 1,541. Other leaders were Don Fairchild, Dayton, O., 1,539; Einar Wick, Minneapolis, 1,533; Otto Haubrich, Kenosha, 1,523, and Krbec and Kashmerick.

Hershey Tilt May Decide Loop Leader
(By The Associated Press)
The Cleveland Barons again can tie the Indianapolis for first place in the western division of the American hockey league if they beat Hershey at Cleveland tonight.
The Barons had deadlocked the Caps on Saturday night, but were knocked out of the tie Sunday by losing to Providence while the Caps defeated St. Louis. A Barons victory will give them 40 points, the same as Indianapolis.
Buffalo, leaders of the eastern division, plays at St. Louis in a second game scheduled tonight. The Bisons won a fierce 3 to 2 struggle from the Hershey Bears on Sunday to stretch their lead over the runner-up Bears to eight points.

Sports Roundup
By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New Haven, Conn., Jan. 30 (AP)—They called it the fourth annual dinner of the Connecticut Sports Writers' Alliance that was held here last night, but actually it was a state-wide tribute to the drawing power of sports. . . . It drew some 600 eaters and listeners from all over the Nutmeg state and there could have been three times as many if there had been room. . . . As it was, some of the scribes had to sacrifice their places for the fans. . . . You'd be surprised, too, at how many prominent sports figures have a Connecticut background.

NAMES MAKE NEWS
First of all there was Babe Ruth, who told how he once missed an exhibition here, forcing George Weiss to refund a lot of dough. . . . "I wasn't fined," boasted the Babe, who then unofficially nominated the farm boss for baseball commissioner. . . . "I've been fined so often I think I owe the Yankee ball club money." . . . No doubt Larry MacPhail will look into that matter. . . . Then there was Eddie Egan, the old Yale blue who now heads the New York Boxing commission. . . . Eddie admitted that reading Frank Merriwell books first gave him the idea of attending Yale.
The grid Griggs' Ken Strong was there, and his old N.Y.U. coach, Chick Mehan, admitting he couldn't do much but sit tight and see what would happen to his projected pro league. . . . And Paul Krichell, the Yanks' scout who once managed a Bridgeport club that won its first 18 games of the season. . . . Howie Odell couldn't miss the party although he's feeling the strain of steady campaigning in the mashed potato circuit, nor could Albie Booth.
Out-of-towners included Greg Rice, the runner; Bill Paschal, the footballer, and Emerson Dickman, the pitcher, all in maritime service uniforms; and Eddie Brannick, of the Giants, who likes good parties.

GOOD ADVICE
When Stan Musial reported at the Bainbridge, Md., Naval training center last week, the station photographers converged on him.
Someone handed Stan a bat while the shutter-snappers gathered a bunch of recruits around him as if they were getting some tips on hitting. . . . One of the kids objected to the way Musial was holding the bat, so Stan handed it over and the "book" demonstrated the proper method. . . . As he returned the bat, the kid explained: "You'll never get a hit if you hold a bat that way."
You can figure for yourself how the youngster felt when someone told him he had been instructing a 347 major league hitter.

Arturo Godoy Back In U. S. For Fights
Miami, Fla., Jan. 30 (AP)—Arturo Godoy, the South American heavyweight, came back to the United States today in quest of a return fight with Joe Louis with whom he went 15 rounds in 1940.
Arriving here by Pan-American clipper, Godoy told newsmen "I can make plenty of money in South America, but I want to fight Joe Louis and Billy Conn if possible."
"I could beat Joe Louis if I met him again today," Godoy said. "I moved too fast when I boxed him before. My punches are more accurate and harder."

SCHOOL QUINTS LAUNCH SECOND HALF DRIVES
By TOM SHRIVER
Harrisburg, Jan. 30 (AP)—Play-off games in the east and three-way deadlocks in the west served to increase interest in Pennsylvania's basketball campaign as the teams passed the halfway mark in the drive toward a state championship.
Two first half championships will be decided tomorrow night. In one game Allentown meets Pottsville at neutral Rockne Memorial hall in Allentown for the East Penn crown. In the other, Foster Township and Hazle Township clash at Hazleton for the Antiracite loop ladder.

CLEANING THE CUFF
Lumberman Bill Cox, ex-owner of the Phillies, has taken over Gene Tunney's interest in the New York All-American Football Conference club. . . . Bob Guild, sports editor of the Hollywood, Calif., Citizen-News, was an early entrant in the Los Angeles Golden Gloves tourney. Now his pals are asking if he was taking work-a-fight orders seriously or just wanted to make an opportunity for guys who always wanted to poke a sports writer.

Top Hockeyman Keeps Fast Pace
New Haven, Conn., Jan. 30 (AP)—Paul Courteau, of the Providence Reds, showed no letdown last week in the scoring pace which carried him to the top of the American Hockey League's individual list two weeks ago, crashing through with three goals and four assists to boost his total to 64 points. Bob Gracie, the Pittsburgh rifleman, remained in second place with 57 points, a boost of two goals and an assist.
Bob Walton, of Pittsburgh, Lou Tudel and Tommy Burlington, of Cleveland, rounded out the top five in that order, each separated from the other by a single point starting with Walton's 57. Running only a point behind Burlington came Les Cunningham of Cleveland and Tony Leswick of Indianapolis, with 52 points, each.

Phillies' Fielder First To Be Drafted
Philadelphia, Jan. 30 (AP)—Ron Northey, slugging rightfielder of the Phillies, became the first major league baseball star to be drafted under the recent ruling on re-examination of 4-F athletes yesterday when he was inducted into the Army.
The 25-year-old home-run ace had been twice deferred for physical defects. He said he was classified 1-AL until January 2, when he received his 4-F classification. On January 15 he was ordered to report for induction.
He hit 288 for the Phillies last year, smacking 22 home runs and his throwing arm was classed as one of the best.
course, Mrs. Wilcox was one of seven to qualify for the championship bracket with an 84.
Only a stroke away from Mrs. May's score was Louise Suggs of Lithia Springs, Ga., who had a 79 and was one of the pre-tourney favorites. She is paired with Babe Wolf, one of five co-ed entries from Rollins college. Miss Wolf had a qualifying 84.
Peggy Kirk of Findlay, Ohio, who was third in the qualifying with an 81, has as her opponent for the first round play, Georgia Tainter of Rollins college, winner of the Doherty tourney in 1942 and who qualified with an 84.
